MURIEL WEBSTER HONORED

Miss Muriel Webster, a bride of this week, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Bishop and Mrs. J. H. Walker on Friday afternoon of last week. Sponsored by Mesdames Winnie Strong and Lulah Gibb and Miss Dorothy Strong, it was planned to hold the festivities on the lawn, but the wind was too chilly, so that the nearly 100 present gathered inside, filling the rooms to capacity, and all present greatly enjoyed the games and refreshments served.

The guest of honor was the recipient of a great many beautiful and useful gifts, with silver predominating, and she was enthroned on the table, where the presents were unwrapped amidst a great deal of laughter and fun-making. The event will be long remembered by all present, and particularly by Miss Muriel, who graciously thanked all present for their gifts and their presence at the shower.

ALL SET FOR THE STAMPEDE

WANTED—Every man, woman and child in Raymond and southern Alberta to attend the gigantic Raymond Stampede on Dominion Day, July 2nd. There will be something on every minute and the prices this year are so cheap that you can afford to attend your own stampede cheaper than you can go anywhere else, and besides that you will have one big time all day.

Committee men have been busy and are still working rounding out details of the days events.

The grandstand is being painted, and has been boarded up, so that it will not only look nicer, but it will be nicer than it has been for several years. Every business man in the town practically has contributed to the expenses of the celebration in one way or another, and they are now relying on YOU, Mr. Citizen, to do your part and show your loyalty by your attendance at the Stampede, and your $100.

Don't let the home town down. We want the best celebration ever, and you must help the committee realize this.

SHOWER FOR BETH ANDERSON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Finch was the scene of a jolly party and shower on Thursday evening last in honor of Miss Beth Anderson, a bride elect of this month. There was a profusion of beautiful presents showered on her by numerous friends, and the well-wishes enjoyed a pleasant summer evening in games, refreshments and conversation.

Miss Beth is a popular young lady of the town and we join with her many friends in wishing her much joy and happiness in her married life.

Fredric March in his greatest show, "DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY," Capitol, Sat. night. First show at 7:15.

Mrs. Mira Pack went to Magrath on Monday afternoon's bus for a visit with her parents for a few days.

Mrs. L. D. King and son Shirley, arrived home from Utah Friday evening last, having returned with S. D. Graw, who has business interests in the province and who will be here for several weeks. Shirley is looking fine and is glad to be home after his year at school.

REGULAR ROTARY MEETING

The regular meeting of the Raymond Rotary Outpost was held Wednesday of last week in the United Church, with a good number of members and visitors present from the Cardston and Lethbridge Clubs. Lack of space and time crowded the report out of last week's issue.

President T. Geo. Wood was in the chair, and after a sumptuous lunch, served by the members of the Ladies Aid, the following program was carried out.

T. Geo. exhibited the Gavel, given to the Outpost by Governor Bill Emerson, of the 4th District of Rotary International, and told a little of the history of the ship Marquis, from which wood was taken to make the gavel. The secretary was instructed to send a letter of appreciation to Governor Emerson for this fine token.

R. W. Tollestrup, Chairman of the Membership Committee introduced the visitors, and J. O. Hicken thanked all these of Rotary who had assisted in transportation of school children to the contests in Lethbridge, and reported on the winnings.

After singing "O Canada," two male quartets were rendered by F. R. Taylor and Co., one very humorous on golf with a take off or two on local enthusiasts.

A. H. Zabriskie announced the program for the Golf Tournament between the members of the Lethbridge and Raymond clubs which was to follow the luncheon.

T. Geo. Wood gave a very comprehensive and enthusiastic report of the Winnipeg Conference, which he attended and mentioned a number of the outstanding topics treated by the various speakers. The theme of the speakers was the extension of the spirit of Rotary to every person who came within the influence of the Rotarians daily activities, and to make the world a better place in which to live through the service we could render to our fellowmen.

Following the luncheon the Lethbridge golfers were guests of local members at the Golf Course where a very enjoyable two or three hours were spent in friendly contest over the local course which enabled the members to become better acquainted with one another and will result in a closer affinity of the Outpost with the Lethbridge Club.

Another Beautiful Rain!

We apparently have had our dry years—for one year at least because another beautiful storm soaked the district the first part of the week and refreshed crops and gardens, just as they were beginning to need it after the heavy soaker of the first of the month.

A two-hour rain fell Monday morning, and in the late afternoon a heavy thunder shower drenched the town and stretched north and east toward Stirling but was restricted practically to the width of the town right here. However during the early hours of Tuesday morning rain commenced falling again quite generally over the entire district, and continued a nice quiet rain throughout the most of the day, soaking in as it fell and giving crops and gardens another supply of moisture to hasten their growing and to practically assure a good average grain crop for the fall with plenty of winter feed in pastures for the stock.

Don't get excited folks, and don't yell too quick. For four or five years past we have been aching to see another wet year. Let's enjoy it while we can. It is likely that more dry years will come in the future.

O. S. Longman New Field Crops Commissioner

Our friend, O. S. Longman, who as principal of the Raymond School of Agriculture for a number of years here made a wide circle of friends in the district, has been appointed field crops Department of Agriculture, succeeding E. L. Gray, who resigned to join the Department of Municipal Affairs. This will be good news to the people of Raymond and a district who all have ity of Mr. Longman as an agronomist.

Since leaving Raymond he has worked on soil problems for the Province in and around Edmonton, and for the past two years has been with the Dominion Agricultural Extension Corporation at Indian Head, Sask. His friends will welcome him back to Alberta, and particularly to Raymond, when he is able to visit us again.

Priesthood Meeting Notes

The regular Board meetings and the Stake Priesthood Meeting of the Taylor Stake of Zion convened in the Stake House an High School Sunday last, and was featured by good representation from all the various organizations.

In the general session, with President H. S. Allen, presiding Mesdames Irene Redd and J. H. Walker were called upon to report on the Primary and Y. W. M. I. A. Conventions, which they respectively attended as Stake delegates, and Wm. C. Stone reported the Y. M. M. I. A. representing Taylor Stake. All Convention which he attended these speakers were enthusiastic about the instructions and advice given out in the various sessions, and are enthused about the work for the organizations for the coming year.

E. P. Tanner, Stake Chairman of the Genealogical announced the annual Convention for July 7th and 8th in Magrath, and stated that representatives of the Genealogical Society would be present from Salt Lake City.

The Stake Y. W. M. I. A. was reorganized with Miss Velma Nalder and Mrs. Retta Walton, and Angelina Witbeck being released from the Presidency, and Mrs. Walton, Mrs. J. H. Walker and Mrs. L. D. King being sustained in the order named as the Presiding Officers for the coming year.

The following were recommended and sustained as worthy to be ordained Elders from the Raymond First Ward: R. A. Nalder, David B. Watson and Wilford Burrows.

Wedding Bells

SOMMERFELDT-RASMUSSEN

Alma H. Sommerfeldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sommerfeldt of Cardston, and Miss Delecta, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rasmussen of Raymond, were united in marriage on Monday of this week at the home of Bishop O. W. Ursenbach of Lethbridge, in the presence of the parents of the bride, and other members of the family.

Both young people are popular members of the younger set, the groom having been teaching school in the O. K. district for some time, where the bride lives with her parents. They will likely make their home in the expects to teach the coming year. The best wishes of the community are extended to them for a happy married life.

TERRY—WEBSTER

The marriage of Archie Terry and Miss Muriel Webster, popular couple of Raymond, was solemnized in the Alberta Temple on Thursday, June 28th, Pres. Edw. J. Wood officiating. Members of both families, and a number of Raymond friends were present to witness the ceremony.

Miss Webster has been teaching for several years, and has been an energetic worker in Church organizations, where her ability as an accompanist has been frequently called into service. The groom, who is a carpenter, has been following his trade, and the young couple have a beautiful and commodious new home to move into. The best wishes of the community are extended to them for a long and happy married life.

First show Saturday night at 7:15, Fredric March in "DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY."

We would like to know who your visitors are, and whether you are going on a trip or not. It all makes good reading for your friends.

Bank of Montreal Crop Report

General.

With heavy rains general east of the Rocky mountains crop prospects have been notably improved especially in those sections of the Prairie Provinces Ontario and Quebec where lack of moisture was beginning to have serious effect on vegetation. Over Prairie Provinces rainfall and cool weather since June 1 have been very beneficial to all crops and have greatly improved the food situation in southern Saskatchewan and southwest Manitoba, where drought conditions had existed. Grasshoppers have been checked for the time being, but are still menacing. Some additional acreage has been sown to coarse grains since the rainfall. In Quebec province recent rains have been beneficial to all crops which had been retarded by the dry weather of the last month, and warm weather is now needed to promote growth. In Ontario generous rains have stimulated steady growth and prospects for all fodder crops and pastures are greatly improved throughout the province. In the Maritime Provinces cold weather and late frosts have delayed growth and good crops now wait upon warm weather. In British Columbia growth is still three weeks ahead of last year and moisture conditions are satisfactory everywhere except on Vancouver Island where rain is required.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Alberta.—N. E. Area
Considerable wheat is in short blade and showing strong even growth. Coarse grains are making good progress.

Southwestern Area
Grain, hay crops and pastures have been much improved by recent rains.

Western Area
Crop conditions in the north are generally satisfactory and hay crops are promising. In the south heavy rains have improved all crops and pastures. Grasshopper damage is not serious to date.

Saskatchewan, Northern Area
Conditions generally are favorable.

Southern Area
While recent rains have been beneficial particularly in relieving the critical feed situation, crop prospects are below normal, especially in the southeast. Grasshoppers have done material damage.

Manitoba
Moisture conditions are favorable and crops are showing healthy growth, except in the south west, where pre-irrigation was too late to repair extensive damage from the early drought. Wheat is coming into shot blade at an average height of 8 inches. Grasshoppers, dormant as a result of the wet, cool weather, are expected to become active with the return of warmer weather.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Seeding has been completed under favorable conditions. Pros indications are for a light hay crop. Grass pastures are in fair condition. Frost has damaged fruit trees in most sections and the apple crop is likely to be small. A good yield of strawberries is indicated and other small fruits promise well. Grains have germinated satisfactorily, and present a good appearance. Root crops throughout the province are reported as doing well.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

Fall wheat has headed out but straw is short and reduced acreage as a result of the severe winterkill—foreshadows a crop substantially below average. Barley and oats, of which there is an increased acreage, are making satisfactory progress. Early sown corn is showing rapid growth and the crop is promising. While meadows have benefited from the recent rains, a short hay crop is indicated. The tobacco acreage is reduced and unfavorable conditions have necessitated considerable replanting. Apple orchards suffered more damage than early estimates indicated and a large number of trees were killed.

MARITIME PROVINCES

Seeding and planting have been completed and germination appears to be progressing satisfactorily. Although some damage by winter kill is evident in apple orchards, the set appears heavy and indications are for an average crop. In Prince Edward Island a heavy crop of hay is in prospect, throughout New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, although growth has been slow, an average yield is anticipated.

PROVINCE OF B. C.

A heavy first crop of alfalfa has been harvested, under ideal conditions. Grain crops are making good progress. With the exception of cherries and plums, which have been affected by blossom blight, fruit trees are expected to yield average crops. Potatoes and tomatoes are doing well. The strawberry crop has been of good quality and of average yield. Other small fruits are now coming on the market and are of good quality. The growth of hops is very satisfactory. Pasturage is above average.

DOMINION DAY

On Monday, we again celebrate Dominion Day, the National day of Canada, celebrating 67 years of progress, advancement, solid growth and permanency of this great dominion of ours. Sixty-seven years of comparative peace, safety and security under the Union Jack. A period of time of which any Canadian may well be proud and we stand today virile, hearty, self-governing, and ready for the future with full confidence in the ones who do and who shall lead us that they will build on the foundations so well and firmly laid by the "Fathers of Confederation," whom we all honor and respect.

Cast your mind back sixty-seven years ago, to the momentous day when the first federation of provinces was consummated. Vision in your imagination the vast stretches of trackless and unexplored wilderness and prairie that separated the far flung reaches of the infant empire. The long ribbon steel stretching across the fertile prairies from the Great Lakes to the Rocky Mountains. Was there vision in the unifying of this vast Dominion into one mighty and glorious whole. It is not more than likely that the pioneers of years ago visioned these prairies peopled by hardy sons of the soil who went forth to conquer and make the desert blossom as the rose. Should we ever cease to honor and revere the men who have builded so well for our benefit.

Today, we see a network of steel running in all directions throughout Canada. Good and well kept highways linking the east and the west and the north and the south, and even in the frozen stretches of our far flung empire sky-trails being blazed to bring to the service and benefit of man the natural resources of a region practically untouched by human hand, and whose wealth would have lain untouched and unimproved for years, but for our modern methods of transportation and communication. Ever and ever forward to bigger and greater things.

Few if any nations the size of ours and boast of the steady progress, the peace and security the law abiding and industrious citizens that make up the population of Canada today. Few if any nations have had more problems to solve in the various methods of travel needed than Canada, and have solved them better. Many countries can and do boast of more rapid progress and more rapid growth of population, but in many such blood has flowed freely, and low defiance and racketeering has played their part in the onward march to a greater extent than has been the case in Canada.

So, on this Dominion Day let us give thanks for our homes of peace and plenty and our land so far and wide, and with the poet say "Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said, 'This is mine own, my native land, I love thee well.' " Sing "O Canada" and sing it with an appreciation of all that the country and its laws, and law enforcement has done for you. It is praiseworthy.

WHY NOT BUY AT HOME?

In reading a book the other day I chanced on a story, which goes this way:

A banker moved into a little town,

And with his business settled down;

A nice little town, no stores, no graft,

And just enough sandal conversation to wait;

Among the farmers and their wives,

Who helped the little town survive.

He gave to the churches contributions,

And added all other institutions. He was liked among his fellow men,

And they helped him as he helped them;

Then one day the banker with wife so sweet,

Made a business trip to the county seat—

While here he purchased, he blushed to confess,

For himself, some fencing; for his wife, a dress.

They brought these home and showed them around,

And told of the bargains they had found;

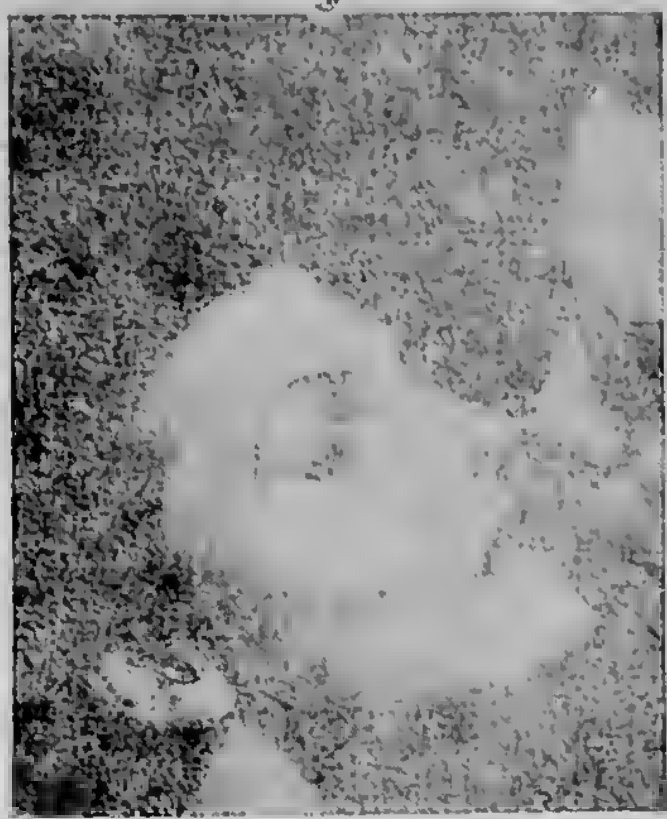

Then the farmers, along with wives so sweet,

Bought fencing and dresses at the county seat,

Till the merchants of the little town

Were forced to close their business down.

The Lure of the Lakes

Music, moonlight, glorious lake breezes with six hundred miles of sailing on the Canadian Pacific's Great Lakes vessels S.S. Assiniboia, Keewatin and Manitoba are at the disposal of passengers on the company's lines travelling from eastern to western Canadian points or as a pleasant diversion on the returning journey for the small added cost of ten dollars for berth and meals each way.

This delightful prospect follows the announcement by the Canadian Pacific that four-piece orchestras will, for a period of nine weeks, dispense music on the Assiniboia and Keewatin en route while the vessels pass through Georgian Bay, across the northern part of Lake Huron, through the Sault Ste. Marie locks and thence to Fort William on Lake Superior, a pleasant, lazy and restful, journey of 39 hours from Port McNicoll or Owen Sound.

To all those who are planning a trip to or from the west, this economical optional trip embracing dancing, cozy cabins, plenty of deck space and luxuriously-appointed dining saloons; with glimpses of ever-changing scenery or bracing stretches of blue water, is one that cannot be overlooked. It is at the disposal of every vacationist and this season promises to be immensely popular not only with Canadians but with visitors to this country as well.

What About Social Credit in Canada?

This series is an explanation of the Douglas Social Credit Plan. Mr. Williams, (W.) a Social Credit advocate, is explaining the plan to his friend, Mr. Jones, (J.) The scene is Mr. Williams' home, and the conversation takes place during an evening visit.

By following this series to the conclusion the reader will clearly understand the problem which faces Canada.

No. 20

Message to the readers

And so friends, let us leave Jones and Williams to their discussion of Social Credit. They will doubtless have several sessions before all points are finally settled. In the meantime, we have heard enough to grasp the fundamentals of the system. If we wish to go into the subject more deeply it is necessary to read Social Credit books and journals or to communicate with Social Credit students or organizations. But in the light of knowledge you have gained from "listening in" on this discussion the immediate question is: "What are YOU going to do about it?" For remember, this has not been an academic discussion about some immaterial topic—it is something which affects you and will affect you for the REST OF YOUR LIFE. It might not be an exaggeration to say that your future comfort and happiness depends on a system built upon the principles which have been enunciated in this discussion.

Of course, if by examination, you are satisfied that the Douglas System is wrong, then the Douglas plan will have no interest for you, but you had better be sure that your reason for rejecting the analysis is quite sound. You may say that you are interested in the Douglas solution but that you are not interested in the truth or the wisdom of the A plus B Theorem, and that, too, is quite satisfactory as a position. But there is one position which you as a reasonable person cannot take, and that is to say that you think the cause of the trouble is something else. If you have seen the earlier installments in which the shortage of purchasing power was explained, you cannot dismiss it in favor of some hypothesis which you prefer. That is, you cannot do it and retain your self respect as a reasoning individual, for the onus is on you to disprove the Douglas analysis, and to do this you will have quite a job because facts speak and work for Douglas. It has been attacked many times since Douglas introduced it in his writings about fifteen years ago, but to date every shot fired at it has proved a "dud." If you wish to try your hand at it, here is a hint. Find any producing organization in Canada which in any given cycle of production distributes enough money in salaries, wages, and dividends to enable the complete output of that cycle to be bought. If you can find any such plant, we shall be glad to hear of it. But, in trying to enlist your

Time is vital.

It is a race between sane reform and disaster. Read your newspaper and you will see that it is not only Social Credit supporters who see the gathering of dark clouds. National leaders everywhere fear the future.

HOW MANY PIES IN
2,340,000 POUNDS RHUBARB

(Country Life in B. C.)

"What ho!" cried the prairie denizens. "Honeydew rhubarb! Let's have at it!"

Have at it they did, to the extent of thirty-five cars, or nearly a million pounds, by the middle of April and by the time the shipping season ends, it is expected that 90 cars will be shipped from the Lower Mainland of British Columbia.

This is quite a bunch of rhubarb. Just figure that there are 26,000 pounds to the car. Ninety cars represent a total of 2,340,000 pounds of Nature's own spring tonic.

Last year a record was established when 55 cars were marketed. This year an unexpectedly high mark will be reached, partly because of early ripening due to exceptionally favorable weather but principally due to the improved organization of the whole rhubarb deal.

NEWS VALUES

(Christian Science Monitor)

Historians in 2034, searching for information regarding inhabitants of the United States in 1934, may be excused for coming to the conclusion that we must have been strange beings—with somewhat peculiar idea of news values. When such historians closely examine certain newspapers of our time they will surely have difficulty in understanding many anomalies.

For example, the other day a robin became hopelessly entangled in the topmost branch of a tall sassafras tree in the backyard of a Brooklyn (N. Y.) home. Residents of the neighborhood notified borough park police, as well as the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals. But before either had time to respond along came Nathan Carl, a 50-year-old student.

He, too, saw the robin's plight and without the slightest hesitation risked his life by climbing that thirty-five foot tree to rescue the bird. A piece of string had become attached to the bird's foot and later this had been caught in a branch of the tree which kept the poor fluttering thing a prisoner until Nathan happened along. After rescuing the robin it was discovered that temporarily it was unable to fly, so Nathan turned the bird over to a woman who had witnessed his act and she promised to care for it until it had recovered the proper use of its wings.

The following day there was a small notice in an obscure section of one or two papers about Nathan Carl and his kindly deed. There was no picture of a prosecuting attorney with his arm around Nathan's neck. In fact, there was no picture with the story at all. Even though Nathan deserved one. Nor could one find him in the news reel theatres that week. But on the front pages of the same papers in which Nathan's story appeared, columns of type with big

BANISH COMMON CONSTIPATION WITH DELICIOUS CEREAL

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Look out for headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sallow complexions, sleeplessness. Frequently, these are warning signs of common constipation. If neglected, your health may be impaired.

Today, you can rid yourself of common constipation by eating a tempting cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes. How much better this is than taking patent medicines!

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

headlines dealt with escapades of John Dillinger. Detailed accounts of his latest criminal deeds, nauseating recitals of his life history and several photographs were prominently displayed. Practically every item of his life was written up with the possible exception of what he liked for breakfast and what his favored wild flower happened to be.

What will the investigator in 2034 conclude from such evidence?

Classroom on Wheels

Takes Kansas Pup Is.

to Study, New York

New York, June 5—A classroom on wheels, carrying the entire junior and senior classes and teachers of the Bentley (Kan.) High School, rolled into New York yesterday for a four day educational tour of the city. Dissatisfied with the limitations of a small rural high school, they are here to study government industry and art at first hand.

Although the motorbus, with its 20 alert youngsters had all the appearances of a gala vacation tour, the trip is by no means a lark, according to Prof. Frank W. Cyr, of Teachers' College, Columbia University. It is an educational experiment of very considerable significance, he said. Always the small secondary school has been hampered by lack of resources, but now a small school is turning the tables, by using a motorbus as a magic carpet, and transporting itself to the very sources of education.

Big industry has welcomed the travelling school since it set forth on May 21. The Tennessee Valley Authority showed them a virtual laboratory of sociology, where many of the root problems of the new economic order are being worked out far in advance of the rest of the country. In Washington government was studied through Senators and Representatives, judges and Congressional debates.

Professor Cyr was asked about the study group finances. "That's easy," he said. "The girls in the home economics department are supervising the meals. They cook and serve everyone picnic style along the way."

The original idea developed last summer at Teachers' College, where one of Professor Cyr's students, the superintendent of schools of Bentley, was searching for ways of overcoming ing the handicaps of his small rural high school. Plans were laid far in advance and government officials and business men indicated their willingness to help out. The whole school assisted in the arrangements.

GOUGING AND SLUGGING IN EAR-BITING SCRIMMAGE

(Country Life in B. C.)

We are trying to eliminate some of the gouging, slugging, ear-biting, and general dirty work in the economic scrimmage. We are trying to turn over to you a social and economic organization in which you will each have your fair chance and in which the brutalities of life may be softened and civilized to a degree which will permit people to live more humanely. Life was meant to be lived abundantly and to be enjoyed—not to be drained away in the bewilderment of poverty and unemployment.

Rexford G. Tugwell, eminent economist and aide to President Roosevelt, was talking to the Student body of Oberlin College Ohio. He might just as well be talking to any group of young men and women or middle-aged or old men and women in any town or city in British Columbia. Life has been draining away in this province and throughout Canada in bewilderment and unemployment. We see the sturdy youths in the labor camps and we sigh at the tragedy of their lives.

"We have seen men drop dead in the breadline from starvation. We have seen the impulse towards human life blighted. We have seen strong men and women numbed and palsied by the fear of loss of homes, of jobs, of fuel and of food, the most elemental needs of life. The New Deal is the first great counter-offensive in that war against human misery." Thus spake Mr. Tugwell.

Editor Recorder
Raymond, Alberta.

Dear Mr. May:

I would just like to draw the attention of the people in your town.

Why do parents allow their children to go swimming in the canal at all hours, dressing and undressing before everyone?

There are boys and girls.
Girls from 6 years up to young women.

Wake up, people! What's the matter. Do you want the name of your town run down. Allow this to go on as it has for some time, and in a few years you will raise your hands in horror at what is going on. Then it will be too late!

Wake up, folks! If children are allowed to slip in and out of clothes before everyone they will think nothing of it. I am not suggesting to stop the swimming, by any means—but make them come in their bathing suits, and when they have had a good swim, slip on their coats and run home until better can be arranged.

Take up a collection—everyone will contribute—and it won't cost much to build a small house by the canal for the boys and one for the girls. Forbid the boys to bathe in the same place as the girls. Why let them go together. Protect your sons and daughters.

I was wondering how many attended the school program held some time in the Opera House, and saw the lovely boys and girls. Why not help them to grow up pure and clean? Give them a chance. Do not say: "Let each father and mother take care of their own, it's up to the people." Anyone will help if only you give them half a chance.

What is greater than children brought up properly?

You all possess the hope of being proud of them some day. Help them and you will.

Build a swimming house and watch. See mothers come with their children. They can be with them and son or daughter isn't going to slip away behind mother's back and go swimming.

I've had my say—the rest is up to you. We will all do our bit.

Thank you,
A MOTHER.

The town was full of ladies the first part of the week who had come from the three Stakes for the Primary Convention held here, under the supervision of members of the General Board from Salt Lake City, with Miss many of the activities.

tion. He was the first Mormon to be made Chaplain in the U.
